

Dean Dorton Ford, PSC Selects Web-Based Allscripts Electronic Health Record for Physicians in Kentucky

Lexington, KY – February 22, 2010 – Dean Dorton Ford, PSC, announced today that they have signed a definitive agreement to resell the web-based Allscripts MyWay™ Electronic Health Record (EHR) and practice management solution to physicians.

Founded in 1979, Dean Dorton Ford has provided value-added accounting, tax, and consulting services to the healthcare industry. Today, the firm's hospital clients and their thousands of affiliated physicians use DDF's solutions and other services to successfully operate their organizations in these fast-paced and ever-changing times.

“For over thirty years, Dean Dorton Ford has been helping our hospital and physician clients with many aspects of their business and now we're excited to provide them a Web-based solution to take paper out of the equation and enhance the way they deliver patient care with Allscripts MyWay,” said Jason Miller, Director of Technology Consulting for Dean Dorton Ford. As the federal government, payers, and physicians themselves continue to move toward electronic healthcare, Dean Dorton Ford is well positioned to help our clients step into the digital era with the nation's leading provider of electronic health records and practice management solutions.

Allscripts MyWay offers Electronic Health Records, practice management, and claims management. The integrated solution automates everyday clinical and business tasks while electronically connecting physicians and other caregivers to pharmacies, labs, insurers, and other key healthcare stakeholders. Designed specifically to meet the needs of small physician practices, Allscripts MyWay EHR is available via Software as a Service (SaaS) over the Internet or as an on-premise application installed on a server. The web-based SaaS approach provides additional flexibility by enabling physician practices to avoid many upfront and ongoing expenses tied to equipment, IT personnel, and operations. Small practices can focus solely on treating patients, while letting Allscripts handle technology components such as maintaining servers, performing backups, installing upgrades, and managing firewalls and security.

Allscripts MyWay offers many features that make it simple and intuitive for the user, including:

- Offline Synchronization: Physicians can be productive anywhere, any time, even without an Internet connection. Caregivers' offline changes and entries are synchronized to update records when they reconnect
- Adaptive Learning: The EHR learns and adapts to each user's patterns and preferences, making workflow and charting faster and easier
- Intelligent Navigation: Relevant clinical content is automatically displayed based on presenting symptoms, even suggesting next logical entry options. Users can move freely throughout the application without enter/exit screens
- Template-Free Charting: Physicians can use their preferred workflow, so they can navigate wherever they need to in the application to document multiple complaints or easily handle multiple patient complaints
- Easy Configuration: Physicians and other caregivers using the solution can quickly change and configure screens to match their individual preferences

“Physicians and small groups are looking for a way to enter the electronic healthcare highway with affordable costs, minimal IT investment and management requirements, and a product that is easy to learn. We believe the Allscripts MyWay offering is the right answer right now,” said Miller.

Dean Dorton Ford will integrate its own accounting consulting services with the Allscripts EHR, providing physician practices a single-source solution for all of their clinical, practice management, and integrated business needs.
